Colored Lily Pool Paint

We highly recommend Sealment Water Proof Paint especially prepared for cement walls and lily pools. After testing many materials manufactured for this use we selected Sealment as the best. If Sealment is mixed properly and applied according to complete directions which are furnished with every can, it will last as long as the pool itself and forms a part of the pool and not merely a surface coating. It is ideal for stopping leaks in pools. Sealment contains no poisonous chemicals, however, on account of lime content, pool must be seasoned with change of water before placing fish in same Sealment Water Proof Pool Paints can be supplied in following colors:

How to Plant Your Water Lilies

Hardy Water Lilies
Can be planted at any depth from 6 inches to 24 inches. They will, however, do best at a depth of about 12 inches because the deeper you plant them the more strength is consumed in under water growth; also the flowers are not quite as strong if they are planted too deep. Use good, rich soil and for each bushel of soil add one quart of our Magic Water Lily Food, which comes in quart cartons at 75 c each. This will insure a vigorous growth and will build up the soil to last for at least two or three years. It is best to lay the hardy water lily root flat about 3 inches below the surface of the soil in the box and do not forget to put about 3 inches of sand on top of the box to keep the water clear.

Tropical Water Lilies

Are shipped after the weather is warm, which in the latitude of St. Louis is about May 20th. Southern shipments are made as early as the later part of March. The important thing in planting tropical water lilies is not to plant them any deeper than they have been growing in the pot. Pack the soil down solid so that the compact root growth in the pot in which the lily has been grown will not settle to the bottom of the lily box. In other words, if you leave the soil loose and plant the lilies, there is danger that the clump of dirt in which you receive this tropical lily will settle down to the bottom of the box. Do not plant the tropical water lily too deep. It is best to lower the water surface of the pool so that the tropical lilies are not more than 6 inches below the water surface, or else raise the box by placing several bricks under it. Then after the lily has been growing for a month and is well established in your pool, you may lower this box. For planting tropical water lilies use boxes at least 16 inches square and 12 inches deep. Fill them with good rich soil and use $1 / 2$ pint of our Magic Water Lily Food to each box. Very good results and wonderful effects may be had by using a 20 inch square box and planting two tropical water lilies to one box. This will give you more flowers trom one box and you can also plant different colors and improve the general appearance of your lily pool tremendously. The planting of water lilies is really not different than planting most other kinds of plants except that you set them under water. Never plant your water lilies first and then fill the pool. It is best to have the pool filled at least a week in advance so that the water has had a chance to get warm. The newly planted lilies will grow much better in aged water than in fresh water. Plants do best, and you keep your pool much cleaner, if you do all your planting in various boxes instead of covering the entire bottom of your pool with soil. Never use any kind of metal containers.
